Stillwaters exists so that no person affected by cancer will ever feel alone on their journey.

The diagnosis of cancer can often be emotionally overwhelming for an individual and their family and financially devastating as well.

In recognition of this, Stillwaters Center is committed to providing an array of support services for cancer patients and their loved ones free of charge.

Stillwaters professionally facilitated support groups, retreats, workshops, counseling and peer-to-peer mentors focus on healing of the whole person; mind, body and spirit.
